14th Annual Cal/EPA
Environmental Cross Media
Enforcement Symposium
Napa Valley
May 29 to June 1, 2007

Presented by the
Air Resources Board

About the 2007 Symposium

Cal/EPA's next Environmental Cross Media Enforcement Symposium will be held in Napa Valley from 11:00 am May 29, through 12:00 noon June 1, 2007. The course objective is to provide a forum where participants can gain knowledge of advanced enforcement techniques, and network among their peers.

The focus of the Symposium's is "Cross Media" enforcement; the impacts created by the involvement of numerous environmental programs and media (air, water, waste, toxics and pesticides). This interdisciplinary approach recognizes that many environmental issues cannot be fully addressed without considering the links associated with more than one environmental regulatory entity.

Participants will learn the proven techniques of top enforcement professionals that will improve the effectiveness of inspections, investigations, and administrative, civil & criminal enforcement practices. Specific topics include:

- How to identify violations encountered in each media,
- How to determine what agencies may need notification after violations are identified,
- Whether violations may be administrative, civil or criminal offenses, and
- What follow-up enforcement actions need to be taken.

Enforcement tactics used throughout California will be addressed through a combination of:

- Video presentations
- Panels
- Group discussions
- Lectures
- Mock legal proceedings
- Interactive Exercise

Costs of the Symposium are covered by registration fees, vendor fees, & grants.

Who Should Attend

The practice of cross media coordination between Cal/EPA, Boards, Departments, Offices, local environmental agencies, and the regulated industry must be a part of the daily routine in environmental enforcement. The Symposium is a unique four day event that promotes awareness of the types of activities and conditions that may violate environmental laws, regulations, or permit conditions, with emphasis on the strength of the cross media approach to enforcement.

The goal of the Symposium is to increase environmental crime awareness and to strengthen cross media case development skills, and is designed for:

- Air pollution control districts
- State & Local enforcement authorities
- Certified Unified Program Agencies (CUPA's)
- State & Regional water quality control boards
- County agricultural commissioners
- Environmental crimes task force members
- Emergency response teams
- Hazardous materials personnel
- District, U.S., and private attorneys
- US EPA & military environmental professionals
- Industry personnel
- Tribal EPA personnel

The 2007 Symposium will include the latest environmental scenarios. The latest enforcement methods will also be addressed at the Symposium by top officials from Cal/EPA and California Air Resources Board, Department of Toxic Substances Control, Integrated Waste Management Board, Water Resources Control Board, and the Department of Pesticide Regulation. In addition, local environmental enforcement staff and local prosecutors will offer their perspectives on current issues.

POST Certified Program

The 2007 Enforcement Symposium curriculum is certified by The Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training (POST). The Commission awards peace officers professional certificates in recognition of achievement of education, training, and experience. To qualify for award of certificates, applicants shall have completed combinations of education, training and experience as prescribed by the Commission. Qualified peace officers currently employed by POST-participating agencies may apply for POST certificates through their employing agencies. The purpose of this program is to raise the level of competence of law enforcement officers, and to foster cooperation between the Commission, agencies, groups, organizations, jurisdictions, and individuals.
